TICKET IS COMPLETED

Texas Democratic Convention Has Ended Its Labors.

LAST SESSION SHORT

By Unanimous Vote George A. Carden of Dallas County Elected Chairman of State Executive Committee.

Dallas, Aug. 17.—At Thursday night's session the first order of business was the nomination of a candidate for lieutenant governor.

In an eloquent speech, interspersed with witty remarks and praise for his opponent, Judge Davidson, Hon. F. F. Hill withdrew as a candidate for lieutenant governor.

Hon. W. D. Williams of Tarrant, in withdrawing as a candidate for railroad commissioner, thanked those who had stood by him. He asked that Hon. L. J. Storey be nominated for the ensuing term of six years.

Hon. C. E. Gilbert, in withdrawing as a candidate for land commissioner, thanked his friends and asked that Hon. J. J. Terrell be unanimously re-nominated.

Attorney General Davidson, Comptroller Stephens and Chief Justice Gaines were declared nominated.

For treasurer Hon. Sam Sparks of Bell was nominated.

In accepting the nomination for lieutenant governor Mr. Davidson expressed his thanks for the honor conferred.

Hon. Sam Sparks made a few remarks expressing his thanks, and took occasion to say that his grandfather and father were Democrats. He related an anecdote that created great merriment. No kinship Mr. Sparks said, would be in the treasury department.

Attorney General Davidson said no mistake was made in nominating Hon. A. B. Davidson for lieutenant governor, and testified to his ability. The attorney general dwelt on his career the past two years, and bore tribute to the efficiency of his assistants. He promised to vigorously push anti-trust suits.

Railroad Commissioner Storey said he had just grounds to be proud of the honors conferred on him by ex-Governor Hogg or Culbertson, as well as the people. Judge Storey said he would never again be a candidate for public office.

Land Commissioner Terrell thanked the convention for thrice honoring him with the office he holds.

Associate Justice Henderson of the court of criminal appeals tendered his thanks for being nominated.

Chairman of the state executive committee was next in order.

Hon. Marshall Hicks of Bexar county placed in nomination Hon. George A. Carden of Dallas. Mr. Carden was unanimously elected. The new chairman expressed his thanks.

26. Thomas Bell of Brady, McCulloch county.
27. R. H. Underwood of Holland, Bell county.
28. W. P. Sebastian of Stephens county.
29. Sterling Buster of Childress.
30. Q. T. Moreland of Fort Worth, Tarrant county.
31. W. S. Jameson of Montague county.

Following supplementary report of committee on platform and resolutions was adopted:

Be it resolved, By the Democracy of Texas, that trusts, monopolies and combinations in restraint of trade are contrary to the genius of free government, and are the most insidious agencies used to oppress the people and destroy the freedom of citizens; and we denounce all such unlawful combinations and pledge the full power of the Democratic party to utterly destroy them in this state. We heartily approve the action of our attorney general in vigorously violating of the anti-trust law.

EARTHQUAKE IN CHILE

Reports Were That Considerable Damage Was Done.

VALPARAISO SHAKEN

According to Advices at the Weather Bureau the Tremors Were Worst Since Recent Disaster at San Francisco.

Washington, Aug. 17.—The weather bureau Friday issued the following earthquake bulletin:

"A very heavy and distant earthquake was recorded on the seismographs at the weather bureau in Washington Thursday afternoon, beginning five minutes and twenty seconds past 7 o'clock, seventy-fifth meridian time. Complete and perfect records were obtained of both north and south and east and west movements of the earth. The tremors at Washington were of comparatively slow and deliberate motion, each complete movement covering from eight to forty seconds of time. The earthquake lasted continuously for several hours and finally ceased about midnight. The most violent shock occurred seven hours and forty-two minutes and twenty-six seconds, past meridian.

"From press reports this is evidently the record of the great Chilean earthquake of Aug. 16, and is the heaviest recorded in Washington since the San Francisco earthquake."

One report said that portions of Valparaiso was burning all Thursday night and that bodies of hundreds of its residents were buried in ruins of buildings.

A London cablegram says that the earthquake felt at Mendoza, Argentina, did not result in any serious consequences, according to a dispatch received by the London office of the Reuter Telegraph company from Buenos Ayres.

Information from New York is that Valparaiso, Chile, is reported badly damaged by earthquake. One report states it was as serious as the San Francisco disaster. Practically every building in the city is said to have been damaged and fires were reported in different parts of the city. Many persons were reported killed and wounded. The earthquake interrupted cable facilities at lower South American points and communication was restricted to the route via Lisbon.

Another report from Valparaiso is that loss of life has not been confirmed.

Valparaiso is a fortified seaport and the most important commercial town on the western coast of South America. Its population is about 150,000. It is the capital of the province of the same name and situated on a large bay in the Pacific ocean seventy-five miles west-northwest of Santiago, with which it is connected by rail.

Connected With Valparaiso.

New York, Aug. 17.—The Central and South American Telegraph company has re-established its main office at Valparaiso and is working with that city now. This would seem to show that conditions are not as serious as at first reported.

COMMENDS ALL.

Compromise Substitute Praises All Editors Friendly to Cause.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Aug. 17.—What for a time had the appearance of a dangerous storm cloud over the proceedings of the International Typographical union was dispelled Friday by an agreement among delegates on a compromise substitute for a resolution endorsing and commending W. R. Hearst. The Hearst resolution was offered by Delegate Roberts of Washington and commended the New York congressman for his efforts and achievements in behalf of organized labor. The opposition to the resolution was headed by Delegate McCulloch of Omaha, who declared the measure was a political one, and expressed unwavering opposition to having the International Typographical union made the tail to any man's political kite. The compromise substitute commends all editors who have exerted themselves in behalf of union labor, making incidental mention of the fight conducted by Mr. Hearst.

BLOWN TO FRAGMENTS.

Explosion of Locomotive Boiler Causes Death of Engineer and Fireman.

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 17.—At Ensley the boiler of locomotive No. 13 of the Birmingham Southern railroad exploded while the engine was near the furnaces of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad company. Engineer Ed Brinker and Fireman Claude White were instantly killed, their bodies being blown into fragments. A part of an iron pipe struck the engineer at furnace No. 5 and he is badly hurt, as also a negro switchman who was working in the railroad yards near Engineer Brinker leaves a family.

Arrives at Marienbad.

Marienbad, Aug. 17.—King Edward has arrived here from Cronberg.

CLOUDBURST ON SOUTHERN PACIFIC.

Destruction of the Deluge—Busy Work of Rebuilding—Trying Times.

Langtry, Texas, Aug. 13, 1906.—It must have been starting on Friday and bringing a black grip with me that caused all my troubles. If I was superstitious that is the reason I would attribute to the opening of the flood gates of heaven over this muchly barren and desert waste along the Rio Grande in a veritable cloudburst and sweeping miles of railway track and bridges along the canons to destruction. "The rains descended and the floods came" on Saturday morning sweeping down from the vast areas drained by the Rio Grande through narrow "draws" and rugged tortuous canons that seam this country until the face of nature corrugated with a perpetual frown. Yet with all her stern visage is now unusually softened by a veil of verdure, every rock bound depth conceals a spring and from almost every rugged cliff there leaps a waterfall.

From Langtry to Lozier, a distance of thirty-two miles, that great artery of transcontinental travel and traffic, the Southern Pacific railway is tied up by the the washout, either total or partial of a dozen bridges, some miles of track and in some places long stretches of the "dump" or roadway embankment. The usually dry canons became raging torrents and the bridge timbers snapped like pipe stems, the huge foundation stones were rolled out of their places and the 75 pound rails were strung out down the waterway like trout lines. Fortunately perhaps there is not much else in this immediate section to destroy but railroad property, for this is misfortune enough. The ranches occupy high ground, are widely scattered and there are no reports of damage from any of them.

With customary promptness, upon learning of the disaster the railroad company hurried section gangs, work train crews, bridge gangs and heavily laden material trains to this point and to Lozier from the west. Manager Van Vleck hurried out of Houston on a special train and was at Langtry to take command of the situation Sunday afternoon. With him were Bridge Engineer D. K. Coburn and other officials, while Supt. Marks and other officials came down from El Paso to Lozier to push the work of re-opening the road at that point.

The regular train tied up at Del Rio Saturday, and accompanied by a Beaumont merchant and a Sanderson ranchman, I got out of that place Tuesday about noon on Mr. Van Vleck's special. None of the other passengers seemed inclined to tackle the washout region. We skirted the Rio Grande, which was carrying a great rise and full of drift, for several miles and then came to Devil's River, which was a raging torrent of mad waters scarcely less in volume than the Rio Grande itself into which Devil's River flows a few miles below the Devil's river station. At the railroad bridge at Devil's River the telegraph line-men had a hazardous task straightening out and splicing the broken wires. The waters roared about the piers of the great steel structure and swirled away in the rapids below, but the bridge stood intact and we passed on in safety to Langtry.

The first washout was at the "Sugar bridge" four miles west of Langtry. Here a second disaster occurred on Sunday. The washout was nearly repaired with the "cribs" when a second flood came rolling down "Big Canon" without warning and the men had barely time to escape with their lives. Indeed one of them, a Mexican section man named Towes, was swept away and drowned, and two or three thousand cross ties composing the cribbage were washed away and lost. If you will pardon a digression, Langtry is one of the most famous little towns in the United States. Having a population less than one hundred souls, it is known far and wide as the home of the late lamented Judge Roy Bean, "The Law West of the Pecos." It was also within sight of this town on the Mexican side of the river where on a sanbar some years ago Robert Fitzsimmons put Peter Maher out of the prize fighting business. But Langtry without Roy Bean is a Hamletless Hamlet. True his famous signs still adorn his quaint little adobe buildings; such as the one quoted above coupled with "Ice Cold Beer," his saloon name, "The Jersey Lily," and "Roy Bean's Town Hall and Opera House," but the spirit of the chief justice of the borderland has flown. Dodd, the only storekeeper and incidentally the banker for the town, has succeeded Judge Bean as justice of the peace, and it is he who held the inquest over the body of the Mexican found a mile below the washed-out bridge, stark and stiff with arms held up in mute appeal.

To revert to the thread of this narrative, work was resumed on the bridge building bright and early this morning, the skies cleared and everybody took fresh hope. But as the most sanguine do not hope for the road to be opened in less than a week, it is now up to my companions and I to get across the country thirty-two miles to Lozier by private conveyance.

Malcolm Carnes.

CAPTAIN'S UGLY DUCKLING.

State Fair Secretary Hopes to Make Something Beautiful Out of the Thing.

Dallas, Texas, Aug. 15. "We have things turned topsy-turvy about the grounds, but we hope to be able in the course of a few weeks to make something out of the ugly duckling," said Captain Sydney Smith, secretary of the State Fair. "Notwithstanding the appearance of the ground to the contrary we have never been further advanced at this season of the year. We have had an unprecedented demand for space for exhibits of which we shall have more than ever before. About all the space on the grounds west of the grandstand is already taken. Privilege people are coming from everywhere and cheerfully paying for concessions prices which would have been prohibitive a few years ago. This is a good sign, for these people generally know what a privilege is worth."

BUSINESS SUSPENDED.

Four Hundred Winchester Are Sold to Citizens of Brownsville.

Houston, Aug. 17.—A special from Brownsville says: Further trouble is feared here with the negro troops. A citizens' guard of 150 men is stationed between this city and Fort Brown, and if the soldiers attempt to leave the garrison it is the avowed purpose of the citizens to shoot them down. Four hundred Winchester have been sold to citizens, and they report that the officers of the garrison are themselves afraid of the negro soldiers, which has determined the citizens to take no chances. Many people are leaving their homes on the side of the city near Fort Brown. An additional appeal is being made to Gov. Lanham to send state troops. Business is entirely suspended in this city. The Texas National guard troops, now attending maneuvers at Camp Mabry, are said to be clamoring to be sent to Brownsville.

Sensational rumors have excited the militiamen, and it is now declared that the negro soldiers committed the acts in Brownsville in retaliation. It is said to be the intention of the Texas militiamen to use ball cartridges in the event of the United States permitting the negro troops to participate in the maneuvers at Camp Mabry. Adjutant General Hulen considers it unwise to send state troops to Brownsville.

BIOGRAPHY OF CAMPBELL.

Native of Texas, and Began Life as a Farm Lad.

Dallas, Aug. 17.—Hon. T. M. Campbell is a native Texan; he was born on a farm near the town of Rusk, in Cherokee county, on April 22, 1856. As a lad he worked on the farm and later attended the common schools at Rusk until the year 1873, and then entered Trinity university, then at Teahuacana, Tex., for the term of 1873-74. At the close of this term he found his financial condition such that he could not attend school longer, therefore he went to work.

In 1875 he secured employment in the county clerk's office at Longview, Gregg county, and read law at nights. He was admitted to the bar in 1878; left the clerk's office and hung out his "shingle" and anxiously awaited his first client. He practiced law with success at Longview until February, 1889, when he was appointed master in chancery in the International and Great Northern receivership, and in January, 1891, he was appointed receiver of that road, and as such receiver operated it until July, 1892, when the receivership was closed. He was offered the appointment of general manager by the then owners of the property, which offer he accepted. He continued in this position until May, 1897, when he resigned and resumed the practice of his profession at Palestine. In 1901 Colonel Campbell announced as a candidate for governor, but early in 1902 withdrew from the race.

HEYWARD NOT HEADED.

Bob Davis Lynched by Mob in Presence of the Governor.

Columbia, S. C., Aug. 17.—Within the shadow of the home of his victim, Miss Jennie Brooks, after having been identified by her, and after Governor Heyward had addressed the mob in vain, Bob Davis, the negro who, on Monday, murderously attacked Miss Brooks with intent to commit assault, and who afterwards outraged a negro girl, fourteen years old, was lynched Thursday night.

Governor Heyward reached the scene shortly after the negro had been captured. A platform was erected in a fence corner on the premises of the victim's father, from which the governor addressed the mob. The mob retrieved the prisoner from the view of the governor, and within a short distance the negro was riddled with bullets.

The negro was captured in a swamp, tied hand and foot, and brought to the home of his victim for identification. When they arrived at the gate of the Brooks home a great crowd gathered there.

"Let's wash his face, boys, before we take him to the house," said some one, but the crowd was too impatient. Four men were delegated to escort him to the house. The young lady, lying on her bed with a deep gash in her throat, turned her eyes toward the negro.

"That's the scoundrel," she said. "I know him by his eyes."

The negro was removed outside the house.

"Hear the governor," said one, as Governor Heyward began in his clear voice a most impassioned appeal.

"I know," he said "that nothing could take place that could keep you from hearing the governor of South Carolina." The crowd applauded.

"I am here alone," went on the governor, "but I represent the majesty of the law. I represent the state of South Carolina, your state and mine, and I say to you, I beg you, I implore you in God's name, do not put another stain upon our fair state. I plead with you to let the law take its course. You have an opportunity here, a splendid opportunity to let it be said that South Carolina leads in this matter. Let us reason together. I feel just as you do. I have lived in the country and realize the dangers to which our women are constantly exposed, but there is something higher than the wreaking of vengeance on that black devil and fiend of hell. You will not enjoy it to-morrow when you look upon it all."

Some one said: "We appreciate what you say; but we're not going to do it. We have stood this thing long enough."

Many shouted for the governor to go on, and he concluded his fruitless appeal to prevent the lynching.

BROWNSVILLE TROUBLE.

Commander of Battalion Telegraphs General Ainsworth.

Washington, Aug. 17.—The following dispatch was received by General Ainsworth, the military secretary, from Major Penrose, commanding the battalion of the Twenty-fifth infantry, negro troops, stationed at Fort Brown, Tex., and gives the first official information concerning the disturbances at Brownsville which were alleged to have been caused by the presence of negro soldiers. Major Penrose was not in possession of all the facts when he sent the dispatch, which follows:

"In reference to your telegram, a shooting scrape occurred at Brownsville about 12:10 on the morning of the 14th, in which a civilian was killed and the chief of police wounded in the right arm, which had to be amputated. Believe shooting was done by enlisted men of this post, but have not as yet been able to detect the guilty party. Am starting the most thorough investigation possible with the aid of the mayor of Brownsville and a citizens' committee. Guard of one-third of the garrison, one company, is constantly on duty. All enlisted men are confined strictly to the post, and no one allowed to enter but mayor and those having official business. Condition is well in hand by both the mayor and myself. No trouble since shooting, and anticipate none. Full facts will be reported to department commander by wire and mail."

It is stated at the war department that no new policy has been inaugurated in the matter of sending negro troops to various military posts in Texas. In fact, it is said, more negro troops have been stationed in Texas than in any other state, and no complaints have arisen heretofore, nor has the race issue ever been raised so far as known at the department. Both negro cavalry and infantry have often been stationed along the Rio Grande border of the Gulf of Mexico to the western border.

ARMED FORCE.

Talk of Organizing Citizens if Negroes Are Not Removed.

Austin, Aug. 17.—There is some talk here of organizing an armed force of citizens to go to Brownsville to assist the citizens in protecting the town unless the government at once decides to remove negro troops from the garrison and take them out of the state. According to advices received here, citizens of Brownsville are fully armed and are keeping close guard on the garrison and none of troopers are permitted to leave. Considerable indignation prevails here over the matter.

The executive department has received no further advices of the situation. Governor Lanham did not return to Austin, but proceeded to Weatherford, and will not arrive until next Monday. Adjutant General Hulen was seen, but he said he had no further advices from Brownsville as to the situation. On state troops will be sent to Brownsville, as far as can be learned. It is said that General McCaskey, commander of the department of Texas, is to take steps to relieve the situation.

INFORMATION ASKED.

Guilty Negroes at Brownsville Will Receive Merited Punishment.

Washington, Aug. 17.—In response to President Roosevelt's request for information concerning the situation at Brownsville, Tex., Acting Secretary Ainsworth has forwarded the report received from Major Penrose and also informed the president that the commanding general of the department of Texas has been requested to furnish, as soon as possible, detailed information of investigation being made by the military authorities.

It is not believed at the department that there will be any further clash between citizens and soldiers, and the hope is expressed that the excitement which prevailed will subside when it is known that the government intends to ascertain all facts and will punish any of the soldiers implicated in unlawful acts. It is stated troops will not be allowed outside of the post for the present and that strict discipline will be maintained.

MINERS' WIN.

Their Candidates Carried Nome Country by Large Plurality.

Seattle, Aug. 17.—Cale and Waskey, candidates of the Miners' party of Alaska, carried the Nome country, known as the Second judicial district, by handsome pluralities. Their election is now conceded by all. The first election for delegate to congress for the district of Alaska passed off quietly, dispatches recording few cases of disturbances and no frauds at the polls. Miners were given emphatic expression: as to choice, as Cale and Waskey were placed in the field after the two leading political parties decided to be reelected.

ROOT'S RECEPTION.

Secretary of State Spoke on Future Prospects in South America.

Buenos Ayres, Aug. 17.—Secretary Root visited Estancia and other places accompanied by President Alcorit, cabinet ministers and diplomatic corps. The secretary was present at a reception given in his honor by the North American Society of the River Plate in Prince George hall, which was attended by leading English-speaking people and prominent Argentine citizens, upwards of 1,500 persons being present. After the address of welcome in behalf of the American citizens had been delivered by President Purdie of the society, Mr. Root spoke on the great prospects of future development of the country by investment of American capitalists. He pointed out that since time, twenty years ago, when the late Secretary Blaine founded the bureau of South American republics, conditions had greatly changed. The United States, from a debtor nation, which had been compelled to borrow money to build railways, had, in a comparatively short time, become a creditor nation, with a large surplus of capital ready and available for disposal of other countries to attain the same position. Argentina was a country with great potentialities, offering security, protection and remunerative return for foreign capital, by whose aid it was enabled to pay debts, and, like her sister republic of the United States, develop her rich resources and also become a creditor nation and help on smaller Latin states. Mr. Root was proud to see his countrymen standing so well in Argentina, and believed they embodied before the people of the republic the best traditions and character of the American nation.

YOUTHS CONFESS.

Committed Series of Holdups and Also Shot Man to Death.

San Francisco, Aug. 17.—With a coolness and nonchalance that amazed the police Fred Peterson, William Meares, Walter Westwood and Frank McAuliffe, youths, last night confessed they were the quartet that committed the series of holdups which culminated in the killing of Fred Mullineux on Ocean boulevard last Sunday night. Peterson, who is but seventeen years of age, admitted he fired the shot which killed Mullineux when the latter resisted robbery. McAuliffe, aged eighteen, was arrested Wednesday, and after being subjected to a most severe examination broke down, admitted he was one of the quartette, and gave the names of the other three. Peterson gave a minut detail of the robbery of four persons an hour before the murder of Mullineux and a holdup on the boulevard the night previous.

Westwood, the alleged leader of the youthful gang, is but sixteen years old, and resided with his mother and stepfather, Patrick Ryan. He admitted he was a gunholder in other robberies and that it was Peterson's turn when Mullineux was held up. Meares is eighteen years of age.

NO TRUTH IN REPORTS.

Husband of Mobile Woman Has Been Dead For Five Years.

Mobile, Aug. 17.—There is no truth in reports sent out from this city that a man believed to be Paul O. Stensland, the fugitive president of the Chicago bank, had been seen in a house on the outskirts and that a posse surrounded the place. Authorities know nothing of the report of a posse surrounding the house. The report that Stensland was in this city with J. B. Mitchell at 72 Dauphin street is not true. At the number indicated Mrs. J. B. Mitchell conducts a restaurant. She said no such person answering the description of Stensland had been there. That so far as being with her husband, he has been dead five years.

FATALLY FRIGHTENED.

Fear of Large Bull Terrier Results in Scaring Man to Death.

New York, Aug. 17.—Fear of a large bull terrier led to the death of Hugh Leonard, a middle aged man, on the East Side. The dog had dangerously bitten another man, Martin Donovan. The animal, Donovan told the physicians at the hospital where he was taken, was set on him and Leonard by an intoxicated man in a Chinatown saloon. Leonard ran out of the place in fear and presently died in a drug store, where he had sought refuge. Donovan's condition is serious. The police arrested August Marcella, a bartender.
